February 2015

Hopefully you have had a good holiday season. The new year is upon us, and it is my hope for all of you that the coming year will be a good one for each of you. Living without your child will never be an easy task, but as the years pass, hopefully you will learn new coping skills to help you to move forward. Our children wouldn't want us to stop living just because they have....we need to keep moving on and try to somehow keep their memories alive also.

Debbie

Love Gifts

Love Gifts-A Thoughtful Way to Remember

Love Gifts are a beautiful and loving way to remember a loved one. Through Love Gifts, we are able to reach out to others with our brochures and newsletters as well as obtain books and other information for our library. We truly appreciate every Love Gift, donation and sponsorship. Our Chapter work is done by volunteers and these donations help us reach out in many ways.

PRICE ADJUSTMENT TO Sponsor A Newsletter Page

Since we no longer print the newsletter, we have decided to reduce the costs of the memorial pages. Anyone can sponsor a page in this newsletter in memory of their child. The price for a full page is $30 which includes photographs and your tribute to your child (poems, stories or whatever you like). You may also choose a half page for $15. Your contribution supports the chapter.

As an incentive to have more help to run the chapter, we are giving all of the steering committee members one free page each year.

To sponsor a newsletter page, contact Debbie Nemitz @ 813-501-9567 or at debbie.bpnews@gmail.com. Please note that sponsorship pages are due by the 25th of the month BEFORE the publication month. We publish every 2 months.

Refreshments

Some of us like to remember our child's birthday or the anniversary of his or her death by bringing a cake or cookies to the meeting that month. We would appreciate having you bring a special treat to any meeting. You may also want to bring and share a picture of your child.

Newsletter Articles or Contributions

Have you written a poem or article about your bereavement process? Would you like to share it in the newsletter? We are looking for article submissions every month from members of our chapter. Articles will be edited if needed. Please contact Debbie Nemitz @813-501-9567 or debbie.bpnews@gmail.com if you have any questions.

MYTHCONCEPTIONS

By David Hurley
Copied from January 2004 newsletter

Over the past several years I have heard several people make ridiculous and shocking statements regarding parental grief. Most of the time they think they can help, and usually they are well meaning folks. They are comfortable in their ignorance of the realities associated with the loss of a child. Many of the statements have been heard from more than one source so they are common "knowledge." Those inexperienced in this loss have accepted this conventional "wisdom." They want to share it with everyone because it somehow seems logical.

I call these beliefs "mythconceptions." They are myths in the truest sense. Passed along from many sources they become part of the fabric of grief to the uninitiated. They are almost misconceptions since people seem to internalize them before they pass them on.

I will share some mythconceptions here with a few tasteful (hopefully) comments:

"I didn't want to say anything because I was afraid I would remind you of (fill in the name)." That's really considerate of you. I almost forgot. Ten more minutes... Yeah!!! Right!!! Whatever makes anyone think we could ever forget? They have no idea how long it is before a day begins without the thought of a missing child. The thought is there quickly, but it NEVER goes away.

"I know just how you feel. My dog died last year." Whatever you do, DO NOT SAY THE FIRST THING THAT COMES INTO YOUR MIND. Take a deep breath and explain that you too had dogs and cats (maybe even some fish and birds). Have buried several, and that it does not even come close in the level of pain or the lasting feeling of emptiness that accompanies the death of a child.

"Isn't it time you just moved on?" Move on to where? We have moved. You should have seen us the first moment/hour/day/week /month/ year. We are dealing with the grief, but it will never be gone completely. No one completely gets over the death of any loved one. The biggest problem a bereaved parent faces is that this is so backwards. We are supposed to bury our parents. We may bury siblings and many friends. Our children are supposed to bury us. Our brain was never prepared for this possibility.

"God only gives you what you can bear." Maybe He has me confused with someone much stronger. In fact, if He gave this to me, I have a serious problem with Him. Help through this is welcome, the need for the help is not.

"At least you have other children so it won't hurt as bad." To this I want to respond: "Which of your children are you ready to sacrifice?" People who actually say this have missed the latest dose of oxygen needed for brain function. While we love each of our children differently, we love each of them unconditionally. They do not share our heart in pieces, each one fills our heart completely.

"At least they were older so you had enough time with them." Enough time? How much is 'enough' time? As my children age, I realize that I am in a different stage of being a parent, but a parent none the less. I will never have enough time with my children. They are busy (I guess I know where they learned that) and it is often difficult for us to find time to get together.

"At least he (or she) was just a baby so you did not get the chance to get attached to them." Once again, this is an obvious lack of oxygen to the brain. We are attached to our children before they are even born. We plan, hope, prepare nurseries, and pick out names, dream of the future together. Early death crushes us beneath the weight of grief.

"At least you are young enough to have more children." That classic causes as much hurt as any. When someone says that it would be appropriate to say: "You are also young enough, so give us one of yours and YOU have another one!" Even if we are young enough (I am not) we cannot replace the child that died. If they could be replaced so easily they would all be the same. I know from experience that each child in the house is different and fills the heart in a way no other can.

"At least they won't grow up to be on drugs (or in other trouble.)" Well, that certainly makes me feel better. I am sure I would have been such a terrible parent and they would have faced such terrible outside influences that life would have been unbearable. Guess again. I would give anything to have the opportunity to face all of those problems with my child. What we are talking about here is HOPE.

"At least they are in a better place." That helped a lot. We try to provide the best place possible and make reservations for that better place for a much later date. The date for that reservation should be a long time after they bury us.

You may notice the last six *myth*conceptions begin with "At least." I think it is safe to say that whenever someone begins a comment with "At least", you can expect that it will hurt more than help. "At least" minimizes the facts and puts you on the defensive if you allow it.

I am certain I have missed a few *myth*conceptions. Awareness is the best defense against these comments. Education of the folks making these comments should be done with care and understanding because their ignorance is truly bliss. We can truly hope they are never "one of us."

Little Angels

When God calls little children to dwell with Him above,
 We mortals sometimes question the wisdom of His love.
 For no heartache compares with the death of one small child,
 Who does so much to make our world seem wonderful and mild.
 Perhaps God tires of calling the aged to His fold,
 So He picks a rosebud before it can grow old.
 God knows how much we need them, so He takes but few,
 To make the land of Heaven more beautiful to view.
 Believing this is difficult – still somehow we must try,
 The saddest word mankind knows will always be "Good-Bye".
 So when a little child departs, we who are left behind,
 Must realize God loves children – angels are hard to find.

ONGOING FUNDRAISERS

We have added a new page to our website and to our newsletter. It will be for ongoing fund raisers. There are already a couple of companies who have an ad and will be making a donation to Bereaved Parents when their items are purchased. If any of you have businesses and would like to advertise, please get in touch with Debbie by calling 813-501-9567 or emailing debbie.bpnews@gmail.com.

Please check out the first two companies who are participating. There is more information on our site.

Please check this page out. The link on our website will take you to their website where you can order one of these very well made, soft, beautiful angels with long arms and a Velcro closure so they can actually hug you. Be sure to go through the link on our webpage so that Bereaved Parents gets the generous amount being donated with each purchase.

My Beloved Larry Daniel

Larry, this is the 8th year of missing you... you will be alive eternally in the memories of those who love you.

Our Credo

We are the parents whose children have died. We are the grandparents who have buried grandchildren. We are the siblings whose brothers and sisters no longer walk with us through life. We come together as Bereaved Parents of the USA to provide a haven where all bereaved families can meet and share our long and arduous grief journeys.

We attend monthly gatherings whenever we can and for as long as we believe necessary. We share our tears, confusion, anger, guilt, frustrations, emptiness, and feelings of hopelessness so that hope can be found anew. As we accept, support, comfort and encourage each other, we demonstrate to each other that survival is possible.

Together we celebrate the lives of our children, share the joys and triumphs as well as the love that will never fade. Together we learn how little it matters where we live, our color, our affluence, or what faith we uphold as we confront the tragedies of our children's deaths. Together, strengthened by the bonds we forge at our gatherings, we offer what we have learned to each other and to every more recently bereaved family.

We are the Bereaved Parents of the USA.
We Welcome You.

His memory is as dear today as in the hour he passed away.
